Dear Friends of Catholic Charities:

As you know, although Catholic Charities is a separately incorporated 501(c)(3) non-profit entity, we are deeply troubled by the sexual abuse scandal within the Catholic Church that has come to a head recently. We pray for all involved and we hope that there will be healing for those who are victimized.

Our Vision is to honor human dignity and Our Mission is to put faith in action to improve the lives of those in need. We stand by our commitment to the most vulnerable in our community.

For the past 70 years, Catholic Charities in New Mexico has served as the local affiliate of Catholic Charities USA, the largest private network of human service organizations in the United States. We remain dedicated to finding solutions to some of the most pressing social challenges individuals, children and families face regardless of race, religion, country of origin, disabilities, age or sexual orientation.

We will always advocate for the most vulnerable. We will always meet those in the most need right where they are in our community, and we will always strive to honor human dignity.

Thank you for supporting the work of Catholic Charities. If you have any questions regarding our work or the stewardship of the funding we receive, please do not hesitate to call me.

Respectfully,

James Gannon
